

- This is the top of my Home page.
- The “work with me button” should take them to my “work with me” page.
- The “free discovery call button” should take them to my Calendly page where they have access to my calendar to schedule.

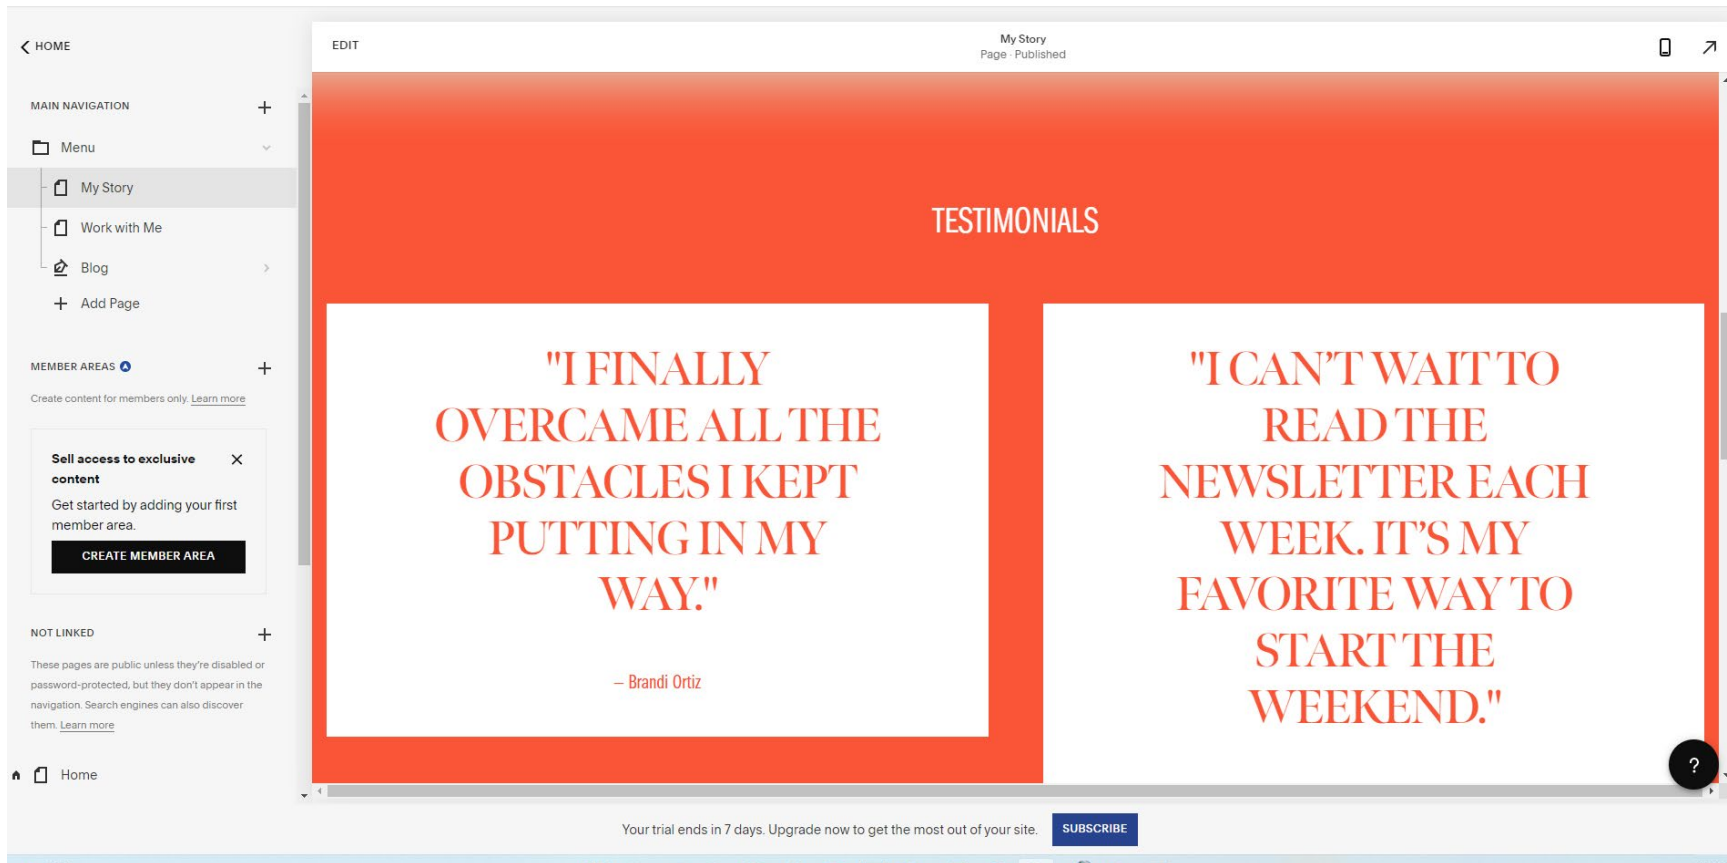

- This is the middle of my Home page. This is something I typed up and will use, but I may change the wording just a little bit as things come together.

- This is the bottom of my Home page.
- Instead of “Newsletter”, I need something like “Free Gift Upon Sign Up”. I will change that language, but I haven’t figured out what to use yet.

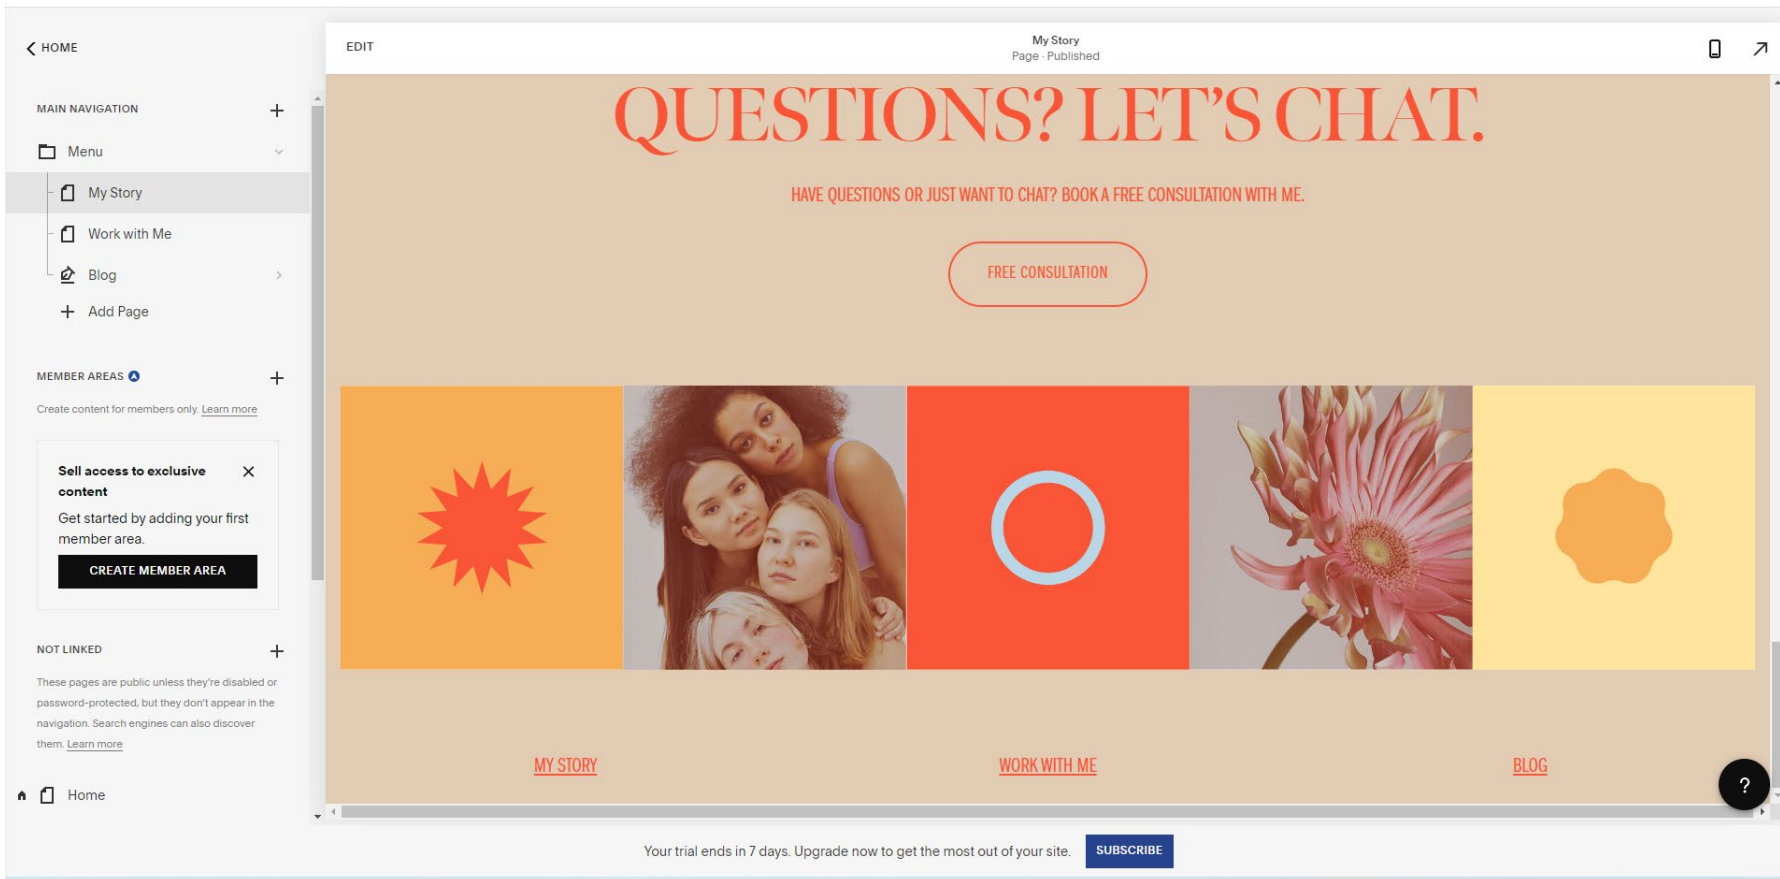

- This is the top of my My Story page. I have a rough draft of what will go here and it's about 3, possibly 4 paragraphs long.
- The “free discovery call button” should take them to my Calendly page where they have access to my calendar to schedule.

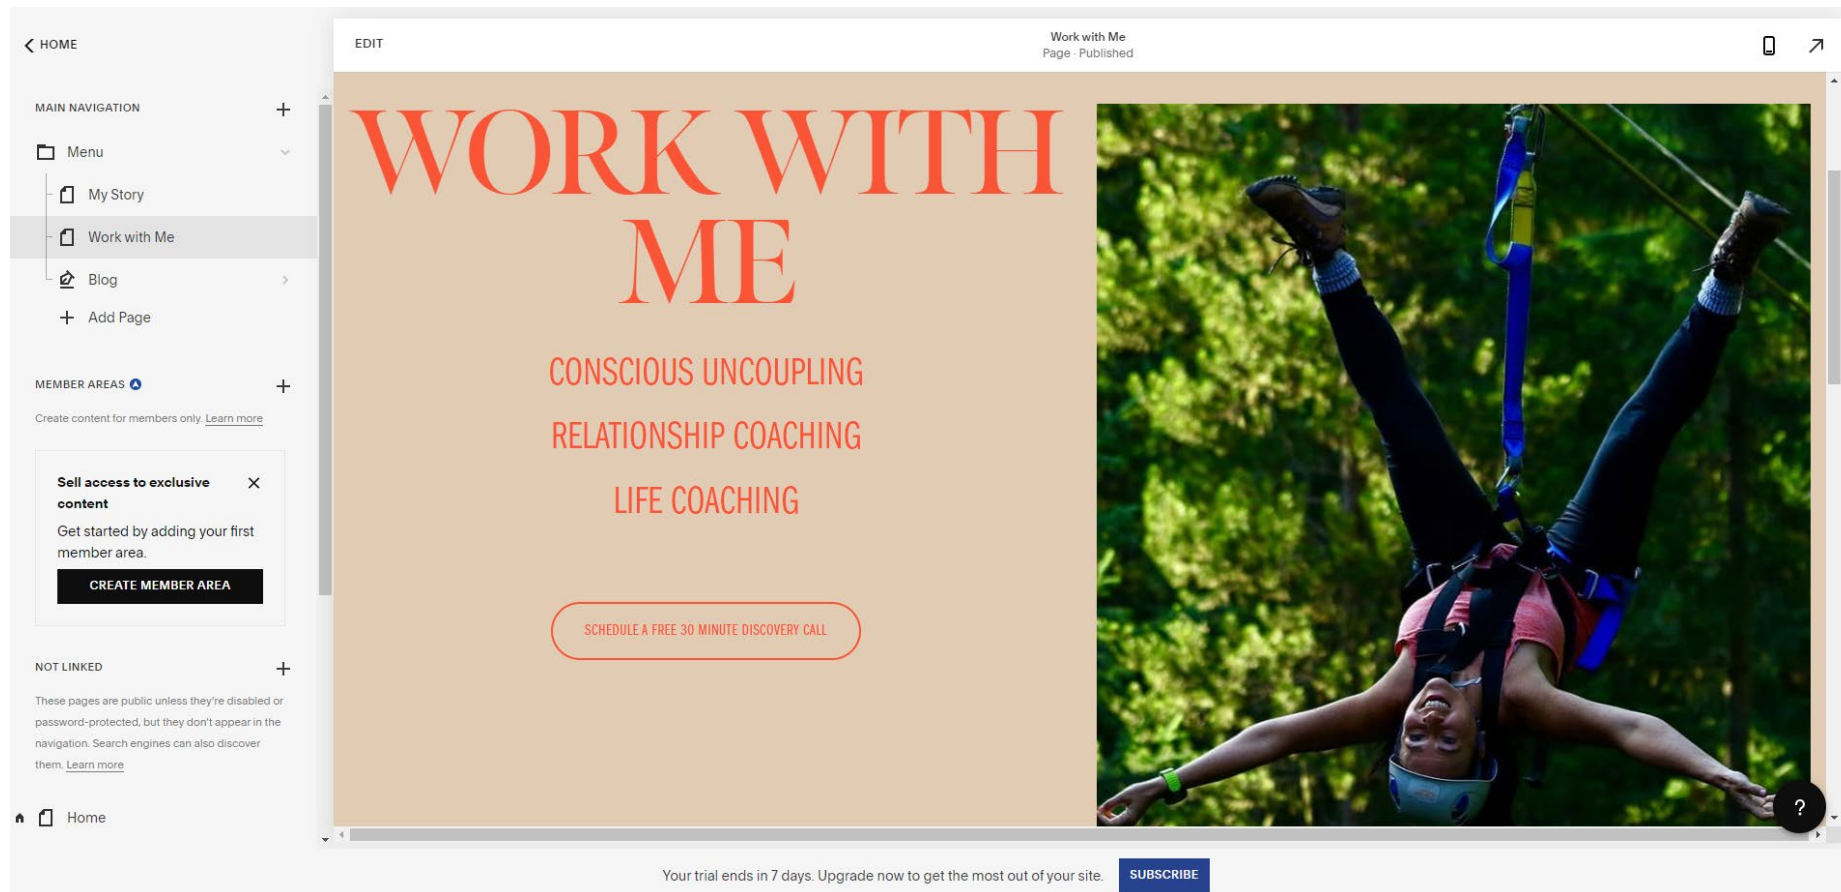

- This is the middle of my My Story page. I have three practicum clients who are writing testimonials for me to use here. I will need to add more as I get new clients, but that will be later.

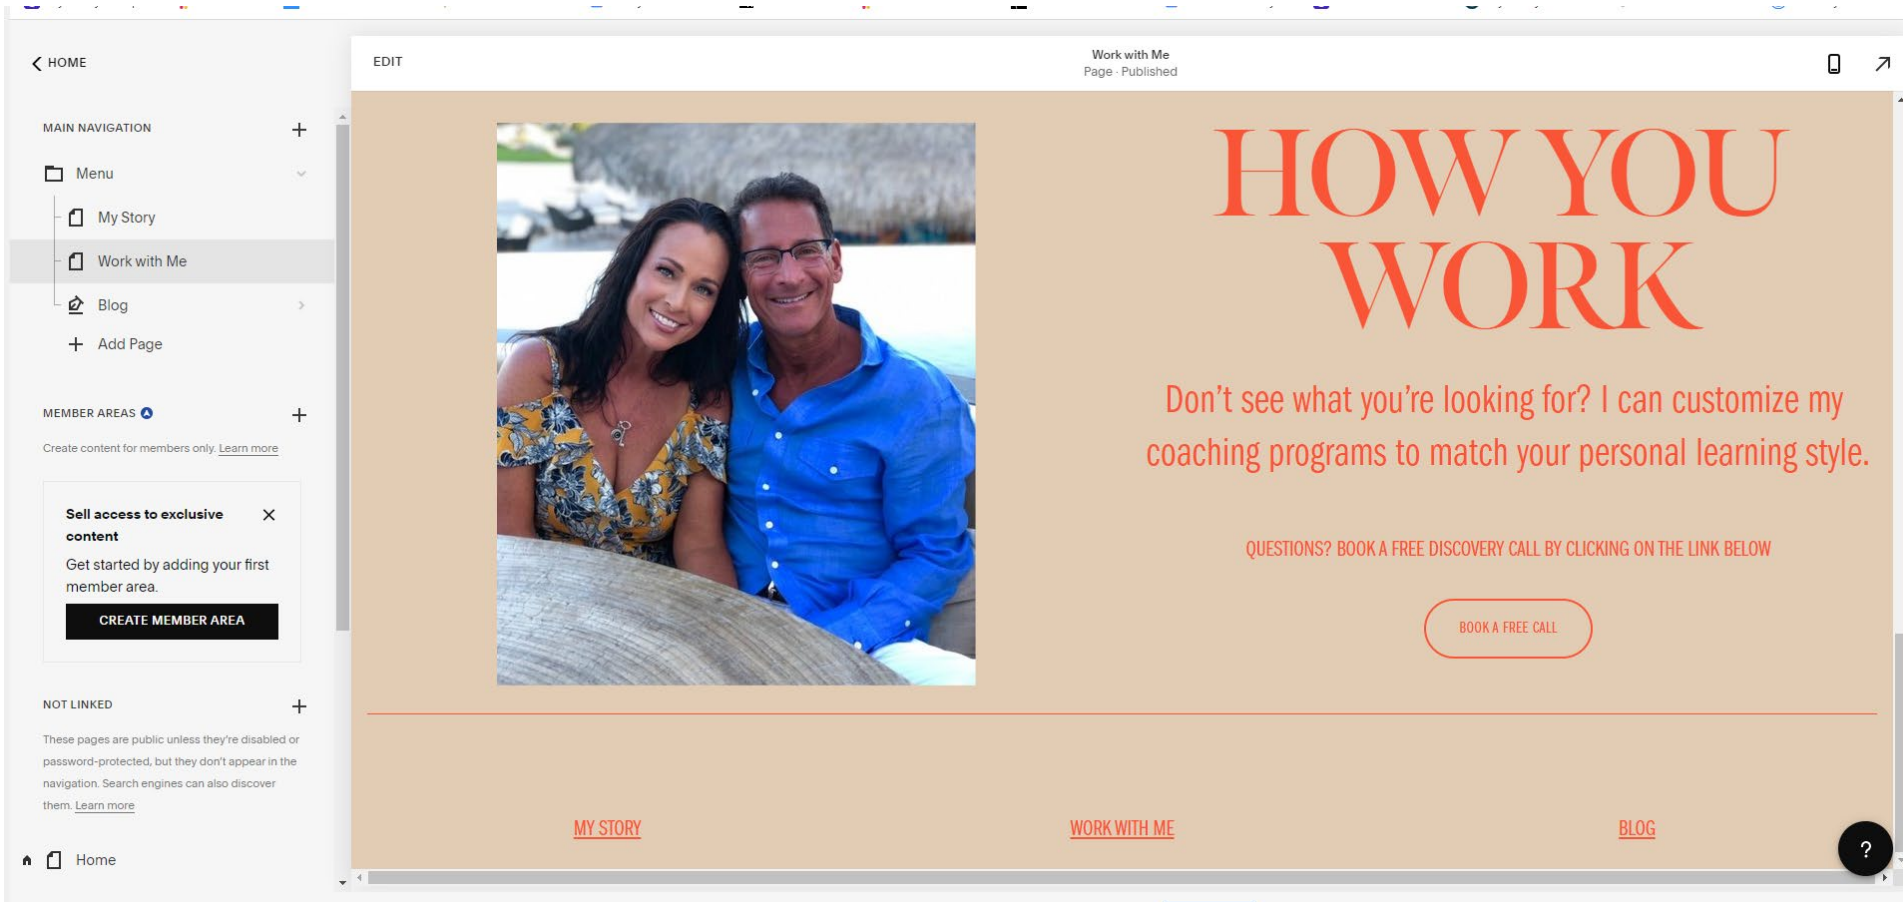

- This is the bottom of my My Story page.
- The “free consultation button” should be “free discovery call” and link to my Calendly page.

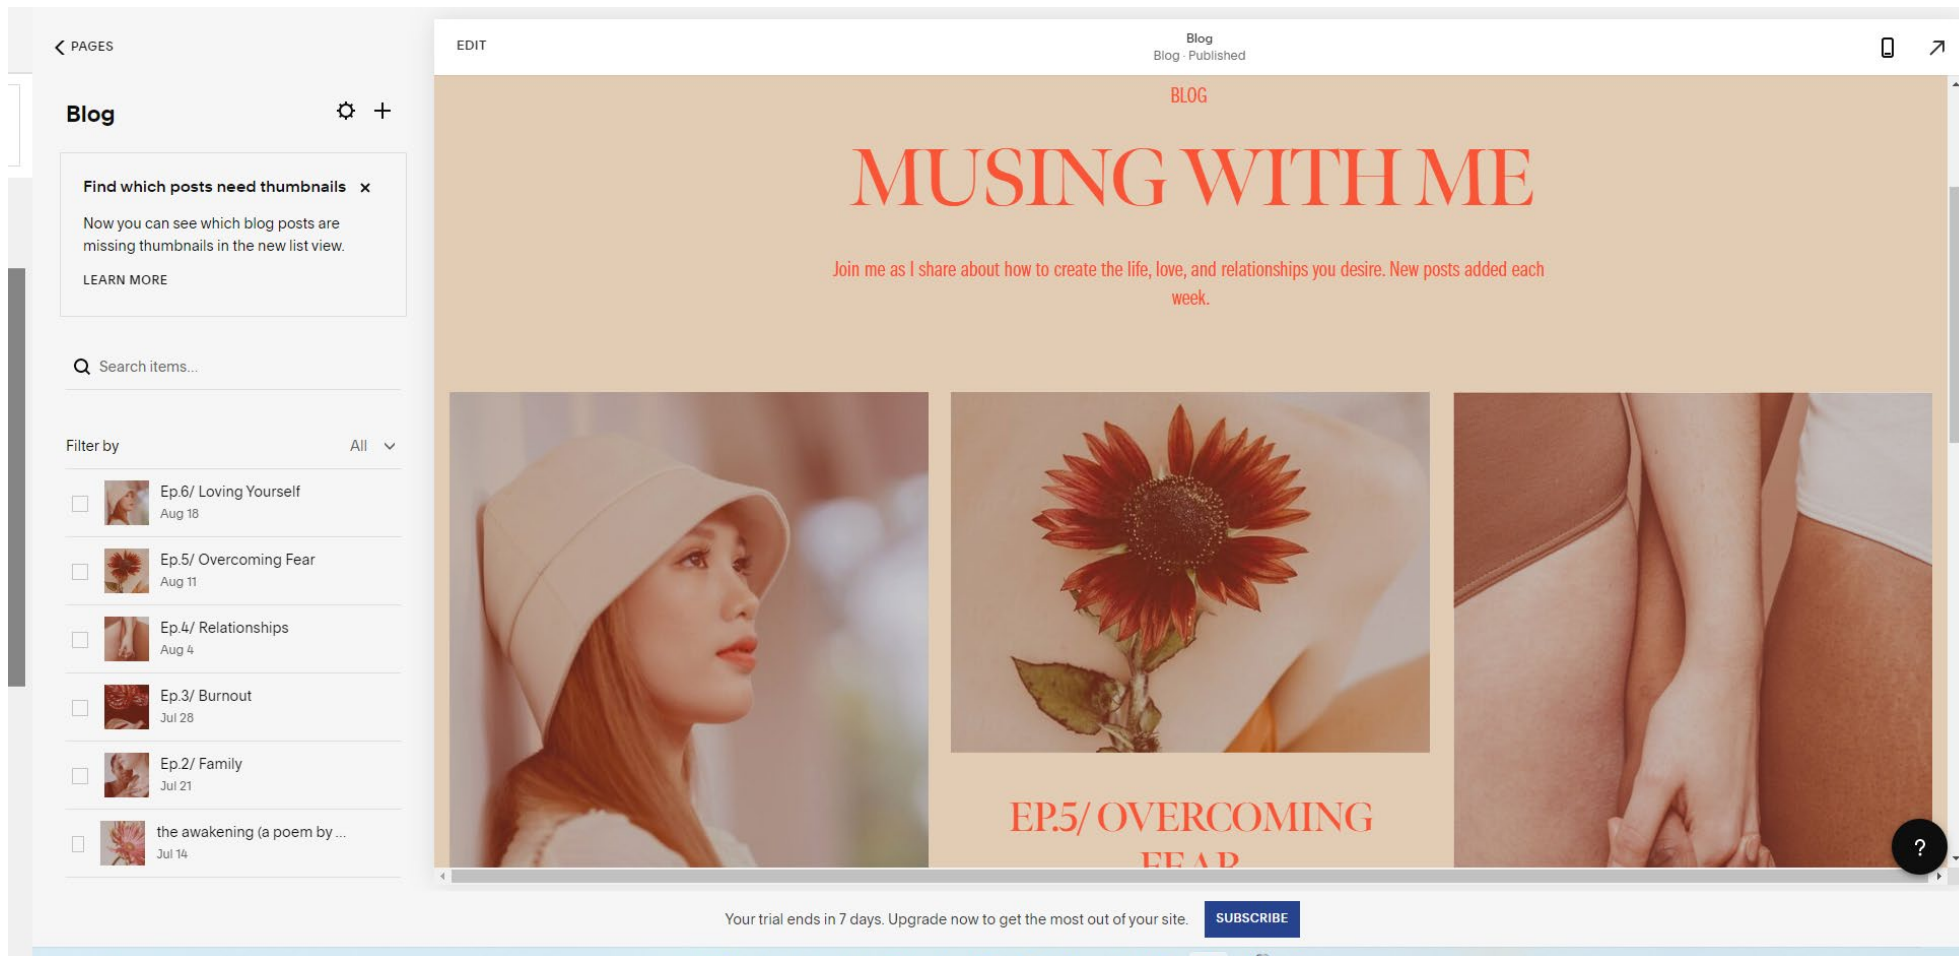

- This is the top of my Work with Me page.
- The “schedule a free 30-minute discovery call button” should link to my Calendly page.

- This is the middle of my Work with Me page.
- The “book a free call” should link to my Calendly page.

- This is my Blog page. The title “Musing with Me” and what I have typed underneath is what I want to use.
- The pictures I use on this page will have a title/caption underneath each one. When they click on the picture or caption, it should take them to the article I write.
